

MANY

KILLED IN WRECK TODAY IN TEXAS.

PASSENGER TRAIN IS DERAILED AND BURNED UP.

ACCIDENT AT SANDERSON, TEX.

Wreck Train Sent From El Paso—Deaths are Meagre—Over Thirty Said to be Killed.

Denver, Colo., March 7.—(Bulletin.)—A passenger train on the Galveston, Houston, and San Antonio railway is said to have been derailed and burned this morning. Thirty-five people are reported dead. The accident occurred near Sanderson, Texas.

At 1 p. m. it is said that thirty passengers and the engineer and fireman are missing.

San Antonio, Tex., March 7.—(Bulletin.)—A wreck near Sanderson, Tex., occurred on the Southern Pacific about 4 o'clock this morning. A broken rail on a curve caused it and the train immediately caught fire. Of the 23 who are missing many were burned to death. Details are very meagre.

No additional advices have been received regarding the wreck beyond the fact that about 15 bodies have been recovered, and that the coach containing a number of New York capitalists escaped.

El Paso, Tex., March 7.—The west bound Southern Pacific from San Antonio was wrecked 25 miles west of Sanderson, Texas, about 3:30 o'clock this morning. The entire passenger train was ditched and burned and the fireman and engineer and thirty passengers are missing.

The wreck was discovered by a telegraph operator at a small station who wired El Paso for assistance. The wreck train was sent immediately to the scene of the disaster, but up to 2:30 this afternoon there are no further details of the wreck.

WOOD CALLED

From Cuba to Confer With President Regarding Affairs in Cuba Return of Troops.

Washington, March 7.—The Secretary of War has directed General Leonard Wood to come immediately to Washington to confer on plans for the departure from Cuba May first, of all troops of the U. S. The administration is also at this time especially anxious to hear Gen. Wood's ideas on Cuban reciprocity.

DOLE CALLED

President Roosevelt Will Give Governor of Hawaii Chance to Offer a Defense.

Washington, March 7.—Governor Sanford P. Dole, of Hawaii, has been summoned to Washington by the President to talk over the troubles in the island. Governor Dole has been subjected to much criticism by certain factions there, and it is to give him an opportunity to be heard in his own defense that President Roosevelt called for him.

SUBSIDY BILL

Receives Hanna's Support—His Annual Speech on the Subject—Vote Taken March 17.

Washington, March 7.—There will be a vote on the ship subsidy bill in the Senate on March 17. Everything indicates that it will be passed by a large majority. But there is no certainty that the measure will get through the House. Senator Hanna made his annual speech on the subject. He rose chiefly to answer the argument of Senator Clay of Georgia. He advanced the need of a merchant marine convertible in war time, and laid stress upon the Philippines being the key to the Orient and requiring a naval station and fleet. The Ohio Senator said that the withdrawal of subsidized ships by the British Government for the purpose of transporting troops to South Africa had caused ocean rates to quadruple. "What would be the effect if any two maritime nations should go to war?" he asked. "Why, the crops of the American farmers would rot in the warehouses and our manufactured products would fall to pieces before we could get ships to carry them to market. We have so little shipping on the high seas that in three years only two vessels have gone through the Suez canal and one was a yacht."

Foraker Ill.

Washington, March 7.—Senator Foraker is confined to his home today with an attack of pleurisy. The members of the family say it is severe but not yet dangerous.

TAXATION

Cuyahoga Member Proposes a Brand New Scheme for Ohio—Pen. Made Goods Bill.

Columbus, March 7.—Mr. Stage of Cuyahoga introduced a bill to establish an entirely new system of taxation. It provides that the amount of revenue which each county received during the fiscal year, preceding that in which the law becomes operative, shall be made the basis of its next annual contribution to the general revenues of the State.

By this method each county will be required to furnish a just share of revenues each year, and those whose affairs are extravagantly administered will have to bear the burden of mismanagement alone. The bill provides also for a board of apportionment, which is to fix the per centage for the several counties. This body will replace the State Board of Equalization which is to be abolished.

A member of the Lucas county delegation has prepared a bill to eliminate competition between regular and prison-made goods. This measure provides that the convicts in the Ohio Penitentiary shall be given employment in an immense printing shop to be erected and operated by the State. The plant is to be devoted entirely to the publication of text books for the public schools.

CRACKS

Were Heard in a Building That Collapsed and Killed Five People, According to Testimony.

Cleveland, O., March 7.—The fact that the Cleveland Baking Powder company had been notified of the unsafe condition of its Central avenue building, which collapsed last week and killed five persons, was brought out prominently at the coroner's investigation of the horror. Witnesses told that they had heard the building crack and that they had notified their boss, who had told the superintendent. One witness said that beams had been placed in a position to strengthen the fourth floor, but that the cracking had continued after the timbers had been put in place. The grand jury began its investigation yesterday hearing half a dozen witnesses, all of them telling of the unsafe condition of the building months before it dropped to pieces.

PROF. BROWN

Of the Civil Engineering Department of O. S. U. and Dean of the Faculty is Dead.

Columbus, O., March 7.—C. Newton Brown, professor of civil engineering and Dean of the college of engineering at the State university, died last night from nervous prostration, resulting from overwork. For several years Prof. Brown has been deeply interested in a topographical survey of the State of Ohio, and gave much earnest work to bringing it to completion. All work at the university has been suspended until after the funeral.

WIDE

OPEN WERE ALBANY'S GATES FOR THE PRINCE.

HENRY VISITED WEST POINT AL SO TODAY.

REAL OBJECT OF THE VISIT,

According to Berlin Correspondent is to Get Coaling Station—Scarlet Fever on Hohenzollern.

Albany, N. Y., March 7.—Historic Albany today opened wide its gates to welcome the nation's guest, Prince Henry of Prussia. State and city united in extending a generous reception. The city was astir early in anticipation of the coming of the distinguished visitor and long before the time for the arrival of the train bearing the Prince and his entourage, the streets along which the cavalcade was to pass were crowded. The city's schools were closed during the forenoon. Broadway and State streets presented a scene of bewildering beauty. Business houses and residences along the line were fairly ablaze with gay colors, American and German flags predominating.

The city hall, where the Prince's first stop was made had been transformed into a bower of beauty, the walls draped with the tri-colors of the two countries. Here the freedom of the city was extended. At the Capitol where the Prince was formally presented to the members of the legislature, senate and assembly chambers were gay with the national colors, American and German.

Every precaution was taken to guard the Prince during his visit here. The members of the Tenth battalion, National Guard, assembled at the armory at 7 o'clock and half an hour later marched to the Capitol, where they were assigned to guard the building.

The Prince addressing the Senate today, said: "I wish to thank you most heartily for the kind reception met with here. It is one of the many acts of kindness which I have received during my stay in the United States at the hands of your countrymen, and which I am not likely to forget."

From the senate the Prince was escorted by the assembly committee to the assembly chamber, where he was presented by Speaker Nixon. Here he spoke as follows:

"I can only repeat to you gentlemen what I have said five minutes ago, and it is absolutely true what you say of the ovations which I have received during my stay in the United States. I am perfectly aware of the fact that your nation means it well with ours. And all I can do is to report to His Majesty, the Emperor, the kind manner in which I have been received, not only here, but during my stay in the United States, that I am deeply grateful for it and not likely to forget it." The Prince and his party then passed down the grand western stairway and were driven to the station. The party left for West Point over the West Shore road.

Albany, N. Y., March 7.—Prince Henry arrived in Albany at exactly 8:30 this morning, and was immediately escorted to the city hall. He will be royally entertained here today.

SCARLET FEVER APPEARS.

New York, March 7.—Scarlet fever appeared among the crew of the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern last night. August J. Behnke, a sailor, was removed from the yacht to a hospital and hurried measures were made to prevent a spread of the disease. It will be necessary to fumigate the quarters of the crew. The present itinerary of Prince Henry is to board the Hohenzollern tonight and unless a further spread of the disease appears on the yacht, this program will be carried out.

PURPOSE OF VISIT.

New York, March 7.—The Berlin correspondent of the New York Herald says today that Prince Henry's secret mission is to get permission for Germany to keep a big fleet in Caribbean waters to protect Germany's citizens against the revolution perils of South American republics. Prince Henry endeavors to secure a naval base in American waters, which will make it possible for German warships to coal and dry dock on this side of the Atlantic.

FINE HALL ON FIRE.

Philadelphia, March 7.—Philadelphia's $25,000,000 city hall is on fire. The flames are confined to the tower owing to the non-combustible materials used in the construction. Little damage is expected.

RURALISTS WON.

Washington, March 7.—The farmers in the house today made war on the report of the committee on printing that only 99,000 books on diseases of horses be printed for the use of Congress. The original bill provided for 200,000 copies, but was amended by committee. The onslaught of the ruralists was successful and 200,000 copies will be printed.

AGED

MAN MURDERED AND WIFE TORTURED

VILLAINS ROBBED THE COUPLE AND ESCAPED.

MASKED MAN AT BUTLER, PA.

Not Content With Murder and Robbery Men Damaged Much Property in the House.

Butler, Pa., March 6.—(Bulletin.)—Last midnight three masked men broke into the house of an aged man named Smith, living near Saxonsburg Station, on the West Pennsylvania railroad, brutally murdering the old man, torturing Mrs. Smith in a fiendish manner, ransacking the house, securing two hundred dollars, ruthlessly destroying other property and then escaped. Mrs. Smith was so badly frightened that she did not dare to leave the house but stayed all night with the corpse of her murdered husband. She did not venture to alarm the neighbors until 7:30 o'clock this morning. Sheriff Hood started for Saxonsburg station at 9:30 this morning.

The villains entered the house by means of a ladder, through a second story window. Mrs. Smith told this morning that she thought it was after midnight when she awoke. The men were in the bed room occupied by her and Mr. Smith. They were standing over the bed and demanding her husband's money. He jumped up and tried to resist and they knocked him down with the axe and beat him with it. Then they attacked her. Mrs. Smith begged for her life saying, "Don't hurt me. I will give you all I have," and handed over a roll of twenty dollars, which she had carried with her to bed. The men then searched the house and got a larger sum, part in gold coin. They smashed many articles of value and left. After they had gone, Mrs. Smith tried to revive her husband. Not succeeding she partly dragged and partly carried his body down stairs and worked most of the night trying to bring him back to life. When she at last realized that he was dead she feared to leave the house to tell anyone till broad daylight. The Smith house is a quarter of a mile from the nearest neighbor.

A coroner's inquest will be held this afternoon. Lewis H. and William Smith, sons of the aged couple, are engaged in business in Pittsburgh.

Bank Robbed.

Popular Bluff, Mo., March 7.—Two men dynamited the safe of the private bank at Essex last night and got away with $2,000.

Patrick's Defense.

New York, March 7.—Dr. Walter Curry, who attended millionaire Rice when he died, proved a good witness for the defendant, Albert T. Patrick, again today. He withstood the searching cross-examination insisting that Rice died of natural causes and that there was no odor of chloroform when he reached the bedside of the millionaire soon after his demise.

Los Angeles will have a hospital for indigent consumptives.

CANAL

MEASURE PROVOKES A WARM DEBATE

ARCHER BILL DISCUSSED IN THE SENATE.

RULES OF THE CANAL DEBATE.

Speeches on Both Sides of Question to be Reported and Printed for Distribution.

Columbus, O., March 7.—The Archer bill providing for the preservation of the inland waters and making them places of recreation and pleasure, provoked a warm discussion in the Senate. The lakes or reservoirs included in the bill are Buckeye Lake in Licking county, Indian Lake in Logan county, and Portage Summit Lake in Summit county.

The measure provides that the control of these parks shall be in the hands of the state board of public works, the state canal commission and the chief engineer of the board of public works. Judge Overturf of the Delaware-Licking district, offered an amendment eliminating the state canal commission and the chief engineer on constitutional grounds. He argued that the constitution itself provided that the state board of public works should have the superintendence of all public lands belonging to the state, and that the one purpose in seeking to include the canal commission was to perpetuate its life. He argued further that the members of the board of public works were constitutional officers, elected by the people while the canal commission was a creature of the legislature and appointed every two years.

The canal commission was omitted in the appropriations bill, and by this omission, the legislature indicated a purpose to abolish the commission, or rather not to extend its life by further act of the general assembly.

Senator Archer opposed the amendment vigorously, and said he was glad he was not a constitutional lawyer. He thought the profession was already over-crowded, but he evidently anticipated the constitutional objection which was raised, as he submitted a brief containing a number of citations in support of his proposition to put the management of the parks under the joint boards. He said the canal commission had rendered valuable service to the state, and declared among other things that the commission had saved the state what the board of public works had lost. Senator Hosea resented the reflection upon the bar, and supported the amendment in a vigorous speech. Senator Harding expressed the opinion that the control of the parks ought to be placed in the hands of an independent commission, and secured a postponement of further consideration of the bill until next Wednesday, having made a special order for 10:30. He indicated a purpose to prepare an amendment in line with his suggestion, taking the management out of the hands of the two boards named and providing for the appointment of a new commission.

Senator Hosea, as chairman of the committee of arrangements for the discussion of the several bills and resolutions now pending for the abandonment of the canals of the state (either in whole or in part, has prepared rules for the government for the hearing of the question before the two houses of next week in the hall of the house of representatives.

The discussion will begin at 10:30 with Senator Hosea presiding, and will continue until 6 o'clock in the evening. The retention of the canals will be assumed as the affirmative, and this side will open the debate. The two sides will then alternate each hour until the close of the discussion at 6 o'clock in the evening. The abandonment of the canals as a whole and in part will be treated separately, and no interruptions will be permitted while the discussion is on, but at the conclusion of the remarks of each speaker he may be asked such questions as the opposition may have to propound. The committee itself will reserve the right to ask such questions as the members deem pertinent.

Each side will be requested to select out their speakers and will be requested to furnish the joint committee with their names by Monday noon. The committee will recommend that the speeches on both sides be reported and printed for distribution among the members and such other persons as may desire them.

CRAWLED

Over Bodies of the Dead and Rescued His Comrade Alive—Five Were Killed.

Monongahela City, Pa., March 7.—All five bodies of the victims of the fire damp explosion at Catsburg mine, were recovered shortly after midnight this morning and brought out to the main entrance. The recovery of the bodies was attended with the greatest difficulty and danger to the rescue party. The mine fire continues to burn with increasing fury today.

Belle Vernon, Penn., March 7.—Five men are dead as the result of an explosion at the Catsburg Mine of the Silver Coal Company at Monongahela. Early details of which were wired to the Advocate yesterday afternoon. While investigating the extent of the fire in the mine, which had been raging for several days, John Hagerty, a miner, carried an open lamp into a room filled with gas. A terrific explosion followed. The dead are:

Robert Howley, mine boss, of Sutherland; James Howley, son of the mine boss; Isaac Eastwood, miner, of Monongahela; John Gilder, miner, of Black Diamond; Wm. McFarland, miner, of Monongahela.

Hagerty is a machinist, and it is said did not know the danger he was running. He and 15 others escaped, and it is certain that the men named were the only ones caught by the explosion. Cement was brought out by Jesse Massey and Wm. Kelly who crawled over the bodies of the dead men. Cement's injuries are not necessarily fatal.

TO BUY PEACE

Dowager Empress Promises to Keep General Tung If He Becomes Placid.

Peking, March 7.—The actions of General Tung-Fu-Hsiang are causing excitement and apprehension at the imperial court. Tung-Fu-Hsiang has a considerable body of troops. The Dowager Empress, through Yung-Lu, the first Grand Secretary, recently wrote to the General, offering to maintain him comfortably if he would disband his followers. This Tung-Fu-Hsiang refused to do, intimating that he felt safer with his army around him.

The court fears that when his resources fail Tung-Fu-Hsiang may be compelled to resort to pillage in order to support his followers, and that this would eventually lead to rebellion. Chinese officials fear that the refusal of the bankers' commission to accept the February installment of the indemnity will render the collection of future installments more difficult. When it becomes known that the 1,920,000 taels of the February installment is lying in the Chinese Bank because the foreign governments are unable to agree to terms concerning its division, the Chinese will possibly relax their efforts to meet the future installments.

KRUGER DISSAPPOINTED

Boers Will Make no Further Efforts to Obtain Intervention in the United States.

Cologne, March 7.—Reports emanating from Mr. Kruger's confidantes are to the effect that he is very much disappointed at the outcome of the interviews of the Boer envoys, Muller, Wessels and Wolmarans, with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hay. It is now stated that Mr. Kruger will make no further efforts to obtain intervention, and that the delegates will go to South Africa from the United States and will communicate with the Boer leaders in the field.

AVOIDED A STRIKE.

Wheeling, W. Va., March 7.—The Wheeling traction company has granted the employees demand for 20 cents an hour instead of 19, thus avoiding a bad strike.

KINNEY

HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR THE BANK'S CONDITION

THE COMPTROLLER OF CURRENCY WRITES THE PRESIDENT.

ILLEGAL ACTS WERE COMMITTED

By Cashier and He Says Shortage Exists—Accused Man is Now at Death's Door.

Belmont, O., March 7.—Not since the run on the First National Bank of this place, when the doors were closed, has there been such excitement as attended the announcement of a letter from the Comptroller of the Currency when he in plain words held Cashier William Kinney liable for the bank's condition.

Heretofore Kinney has been held in the highest esteem by all and the developments of the past few days have fairly startled the people.

To make the case more pathetic Kinney is lying at death's door, without a shadow of hope for recovery. Relatives are coming to his rescue to the best of their means, but even they would be unable to save him had death not placed its stamp upon him.

In his communication to President N. B. Nichols, of the defunct First National, the Comptroller of the Currency says that loans aggregating $50,314 were made in excess of what is allowed by law. He alleges that there was a deficiency of $7,276 in lawful money reserve. The stock certificate book shows 17 shares more in stock outstanding than the stock ledger. The individual ledger shows $83,222 more deposits than the general ledger. County orders amounting to $891.35 were reported to have been sent out for collection, but no record of the same having been forwarded could be found. The Cashier is reported to have been criminally negligent in handling the affairs of the bank. He is reported to have manipulated the certificate of deposit register to the extent of $7,491.13. Some certificates of deposit have been marked paid or void while outstanding.

The examiner states that $4,695 of these certificates have been presented for payment, and that $2,825.56 more are expected. It is understood that the amount of the shortage so far as ascertained has been recovered from the Cashier's relatives, but the total amount cannot be definitely determined until all the certificates have been presented for payment.

The full extent of the defalcation should be ascertained as soon as possible and steps taken to secure the bank against loss. The following losses appear to have been sustained by the bank: Probably bad debts, $3,367.14; other overdue paper, $7,760; overdrafts, $123.30; total, $11,250.44. The surplus and net undivided profits at the time of the examination amounted only to $8,772.05, and the capital is therefore slightly impaired. Certificates of deposit have been issued in the name of the Cashier for $4,000 borrowed by the bank from another bank, and for $2,500 borrowed of another bank, at 6 per cent. Both of these loans have been obtained without the knowledge of the Board of Directors. The liability on account of notes and bills rediscounted at the National Exchange Bank of Wheeling, W. Va., $2,000 was also incurred without authority from the Board of Directors. The Comptroller takes the Directors over the coals for not having frequent meetings so as to examine loans, which evidently were made without their direction.

There is much complaint here on the part of business men, and unless more confidence is restored the bank will hardly be revived.

BRITAIN'S LITTLE WAR GOOD FOR A FEW YEARS.

London, March 7.—Cabling from Pretoria, Edgar Wallace, the correspondent of the Daily Mail, says that he sees no reason why the war should not be prolonged for another year and perhaps for two years more. Artillery can fire 7,000 yards on Salisbury Plain entirely over War Office land. This is by far the longest range in the British Isles.

THE COMMITTEE

Comprising Leading Citizens of Both Political Parties.

Appointed by the Council to Report the Facts Pertaining to the Water Works Question.

The Advocate spoke yesterday of the highly important and arduous duty that had been undertaken by the non-partisan committee appointed by the Council to prepare the statement on the water works proposition, and added that further mention would be made today of the character of the members of the committee and their work.

Not a word in behalf of any of the men who have undertaken this work need be said to the older citizens of Newark who have known all of them for a life time. But there has been a surprising growth of our popular city in the past few years, and a few words explanatory of their ability and high character will be of interest to the many newcomers who have become residents of Newark.

Mr. Edward Kibler, one of the brightest lawyers of the city, is peculiarly adapted to the task in consequence of his familiarity with the subject. Having been a member of the Ohio Municipal Code Commission he had an unusual opportunity to become thoroughly versed on the great question of municipal ownership of public utilities. How thoroughly he became master of the subject is shown by the fact that today he possesses a state and national reputation as an exponent of municipal ownership, and what he has said and written have become standard authority on the great question. Mr. Kibler's undisputed capability as a lawyer will enable him to thoroughly present to the tax-payers every phase of all the legal questions involved, and we feel confident that this feature of the report that the committee shall make will be very generally accepted and approved by the Newark bar as well as the public.

Years of ripe experience, sound business judgment, the strictest integrity and abundant ability are represented in another member of the committee of four—Benjamin Franklin, Esq., president of the Peoples National Bank of this city. Mr. Franklin has for nearly a half century been identified with the business interests in Newark. He has grown up with the city and nobody in Newark is better known or more respected than he. His property interests are large and personally he will be affected by the tax rate probably as much as any man in the city. Mr. Franklin is known to be a careful, conservative, thoughtful man. He will study the water works question thoroughly and will report on the matter to the Council with his colleagues within a short time. The people will have confidence in the conclusions he will reach and in the suggestions he will make, and that confidence will not be misplaced.

Mr. Edward Thomas is one of the best known manufacturers of the city, being the practical business manager of the James E. Thomas Foundry and Steel Company, one of the most successful and reliable industrial institutions in our city. By education and practical application he has become thoroughly familiar with the modern materials, engines, machinery and appliances necessary in a water works plant. He has been a citizen of our city all his life and his integrity stands unquestioned. This fact, in connection with his well known familiarity with the mechanical and economic features of the question will cause his judgment and his conclusions to be accepted by all citizens who are desirous that the city's best interests shall be conserved.

Charles C. Metz, Esq.—The City Council exercised excellent judgment in the selection of the committee of four to study the water works problem, as every member of the non-partisan committee is recognized as a representative citizen. None of the four stands higher in the estimation of the public as a reliable, successful business man of sound judgment than Charles C. Metz, former president of the Board of Trade. Mr. Metz is one of the best holders of real estate in Newark, and consequently is personally interested in the subject of taxation to a marked degree. His long experience in business and the success that has attended it put his judgment far above par. The recommendations that Mr. Metz will make, whatever they may be, will be worth "banking on."

The Advocate is glad to have four such men as Edward Kibler, Benjamin Franklin, Edward Thomas and Charles C. Metz consent to study the water works question and to make a report as to what in their opinion, it will be wise for Newark to do. Though the time is short, by energetic effort all the necessary information can be collected and presented in due form with the committee's recommendation, and whatever that recommendation may be, it in the opinion of the Advocate, should be followed, as it would be a difficult matter to find a more thoroughly honest or a more competent committee than that which now has this important matter under consideration.

The process of inflation and watered stock these buoyant times was shown the other day in a hearing as to a flouring mill combination in New Jersey. The value of the fourteen mills in the combination was estimated in court at $2,750,000. Upon this slight basis $15,000,000 in bonds had been authorized and $7,500,000 actually issued, "secured" by a mortgage on the properties. The "upset price" for the foreclosure sale, which includes such "intangible assets" as good will and trademarks, was provisionally fixed by the court at $1,750,000—one quarter of the authorized bond issue. That was squeezing out the water with a vengeance.

The House of Representatives approved the conference report on the Philippine tax bill, and it goes to the President. The House started out with the plan that the Philippines should pay the full rate of the Dingley duties on all their imports into the United States, but the Senate amended this by making a reduction of one-fourth of the Dingley schedules, and it was embodied in the conference report. The Manila merchants have protested against this rate as unjust and oppressive. They do not see the advantage of annexation to the United States in the face of a big tariff against their products.

Colonel Sir Vincent Sheffield, who has just returned from South Africa, stated in a speech at Eaton that when he left from 80 to 90 Boer commandos of about 200 men each were still in the field, or in all 16,000 to 18,000 men. The British Cavalry soldier is to per cent below that of 1900.

Nerve Slavery

It is present-day conditions—heaping burden of work upon the nervous system that tells the story—premature breaking up of health.

It tells why so many men and women, who so far as age is concerned, should be in the prime of health, find themselves letting go of the strength, the power, the vitality they once possessed. It is because that great motor power of the body, nerve force, is impaired. Neither will the heart, the brain, the liver, the kidneys, the stomach act right without their proper nerve force supply. Let any organ be lacking in this essential and troubles begin—some of them are:

Trembling, palpitation heart.
Sleepless nights.
Shedden nervousness.
Morning languor.
Brain fog.
Inability to work or think.
Exhaustion on exertion.
Flagging appetite.
Dizziness, slow.
Head heavy.
Easy excited, nervous, irritable.
Strength fails.
Loss of flesh and muscular power.
Sensitized melanocholia.

BATTLE WITH THE MONITOR

(Copyright, 1902, by G. L. Kilmer.)

ACCIDENT, chance or what not was the instigator and arbiter of the first and last in the wonderful battle between the little Monitor and the huge Merrimac in Hampton Roads, March 9, 1862. The encounter and its results turned the naval world upside down and decided who would rule the wave on the American coast, with many things besides.

Stories of the marvelous powers of the Confederate ironclad ram had terrified the north and built up the hopes of the south. She entered Hampton Roads on March 8, sank the thirty gun wooden sloop of war Cumberland, burned the fifty gun frigate Congress to the water's edge and then lay by for favorable tides to enable her to visit similar destruction upon three more wooden frigates, the Roanoke, St. Lawrence and Minnesota, anchored at hand and already smarting under the fire of her chance shots during the first day's battle.

While the flames ignited by the incendiary shells, from the Merrimac were devouring the noble frigates Congress the evening of March 8 the Monitor steamed up to Fortress Monroe, six miles from the scene of battle. Her presence there was due to an accident, and but for another accident she would not have been in existence. Her projector, Ericsson, had shamed the Federal naval board into ordering the construction of an ironclad upon the plan he had submitted. Ericsson had gone from New York to Washington in the fall of 1861 under the belief that his plan for an ironclad ship had been approved by the naval board. It was false, but the deception and disappointment caused the earnest hearted Swede to burst forth in angry eloquence.

"Gentlemen," said he, "after what I have said I consider it your duty to the country to give me an order to build the vessel before I leave this room." The upshot of the little deception, which passed for diplomacy, was an order to build the Monitor within 100 days.

Ericsson's working models were completed, and the machinists toiled night and day from December to March. Finally all was ready for a trial trip, and, with volunteer officers and crew—for it was a life and death venture from the start to sail in her—the Monitor left New York at midday March 6. Her commander, Lieutenant John L. Worden of the navy, was told to proceed to Fortress Monroe for the protection of the Chesapeake Bay and the Potomac river from the raids of the dreaded ironclad ram Merrimac.

After the Monitor had left New York a dispatch reached there from Washington ordering Worden to sail up the Potomac to Washington, not touching at Fortress Monroe. A tug gave chase to deliver the message, but failed to overtake the Monitor, and she passed the mouth of the Potomac, bringing up at Fortress Monroe the evening of March 8, the last few miles of the sail unaided by the sound of the guns in the fight between the Merrimac and the wooden fleet near Newport News.

Meanwhile the undelivered New York dispatch had been forwarded to the naval commandant of Fortress Monroe. With that dispatch before him, he also heard reports from the front, where the sunken sloop Cumberland lay, swaying in the tide, the flames of the burning Congress lit the sky for miles, and the Roanoke, Minnesota and St. Lawrence were patching the rents made in their wooden hulls by the shells of the Merrimac, which was only waiting for daylight to sail forth from her mooring and finish the feat at one blow.

The orders were imperative to send the Monitor to Washington to defend the capital, and from the way the Merrimac had smashed things on her first attempt it looked like a hopeless case for the little black thing which resembled in comparison with the warships of the day a "tin can on a board" to go out against the monster ram. In the trip down from New York the Monitor people had discovered the weak points of their novel craft. The waves had flooded her hold, deluged her furnace room and coal bunkers, checking the fires and almost suffocating her crew with gas. She carried but two guns. Her ports could only be closed by cessation of firing. One shell in the gun chamber, the turret would disable her fighting power, and her shots must be delivered at random or "on the fly" when the revolving turret brought the enemy opposite the gun port for an instant. Besides, the cannon were a new invention, and the powder charge was limited to fifteen pounds for a one hundred and eighty pound shot. On the other hand, the Merrimac had made a record and proved invulnerable.

But in spite of all the naval chief, who held the deciding card, concluded to cut red tape and send the floating experiment to the relief of the wooden ships down the channel. Already the Merrimac was closing in upon the Minnesota, which was helplessly afloat. The pilot of the ram had promised to lay her within half a mile of the Minnesota, and the commander and crew were discomfiting their victory, which seemed a foregone result, when the little newcomer from the workshops of the Union bobbed into the arena and began peering shots at the giant from a six hundred yard range.

The Reads was filled with spectators, for out of the thousands of soldiers and sailors marshaled there under the stars and stripes only the little Monitor in the turret of the Monitor could mix in the strange fight. The Confederate sailors looked for an easy victory over what seemed to be a new kind of tug with a gun or two aboard. But their heavy shots rattled off the solid plate of Ericsson's wonder without leaving a dent. Then, too, that revolving turret, which belched forth smoke and iron, baffled the gunners in gray who attempted to make port shots at the range of a ship's length. And the little ship was as nimble as a tug in dodging the Merrimac's guns. She could go anywhere and get back again while the Merrimac was training a gun on her. Even with her ridiculously weak charges the Monitor's shots started the bolts on the ram, and if she had used double charges the Merrimac would have met the fate she had visited so savagely upon the Cumberland and Congress the day before.

During the first fight, which lasted about three hours, Captain Worden and the pilot stayed in the pilothouse, a little structure of iron logs at one end of the low deck. Owing to a break of the speaking tubes communication between Worden and the men in the firing turret was cut early in the action, and messages were passed on the lips of seamen stationed at intervals. Finally the shots in the turret gave out, and the Monitor halted off to replenish the supply.

Meanwhile the Merrimac turned again to the Minnesota and was struck with a broadside of twenty guns that would have torn a wooden ship to shreds. She answered with a shell that set the Minnesota on fire and, turning, found the Monitor again closing in. The first shot of the Merrimac in this second attack struck the upper log of the pilothouse, where Worden was looking out, and blinded him with powder. Supposing that the pilothouse was destroyed and the steering gear along with it, Worden ordered his subordinate, Lieutenant Greene, who was in the turret, to "sheer off" and look to the damaged works. Greene decided to go on with the fight alone, for Worden was stunned by the concussion of the shock as well as blinded. But the Merrimac had sailed away without waiting to finish her enemies. Even the Minnesota was saved by putting out the fires. So the net result of the second firing of the ram was that she went back to her moorings with a few extra wounded men in her crew and the reputation of running from the smallest fighting ship afloat.

During the fight both the Merrimac and the Monitor tried ramming. The Monitor lightly dodged her antagonist and in turn just missed striking the Merrimac with her sharp end by a hair. Officers and men of both ships declared that the contest was not fought out. Those aboard the ram said that when the Monitor backed off, which was to replenish her ammunition and change commanders, they believed her out of the fight. Why they didn't go ahead and smash the remaining frigates close at hand, as they had done the Cumberland and Congress the day before, they never clearly explained. Admiral Buchanan, the command of the Merrimac in the first day's fight, had been put ashore on account of a wound.

Worden said his crew were made the heroes of the hour. In the first fight between ironclads they held the field of battle and saw their foe beat a quiet retreat. Even admitting that it was a drawn battle, the future of naval science was decided in that short fight between experimental craft. The advantages of the pygmy Monitor lay in her revolving gun turret, with its impervious shield, her rapid movements and her low invulnerable deck. Her weaknesses were that the turret was not under complete control and her guns were not fully effective. All her shots were sent at random, never twice in the same place. She sank at sea off Hatteras in December, 1862, and the forlorn fight on March 9, which gave birth to the new American navy, was her first and her last. The Merrimac was repaired for service in James river and on May 11 was blown up to prevent capture.

OLD NATIONAL PIKE

AN INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF ITS HISTORY.

Some Readable Statistics Dated as Far Back as the Beginning of the Historic Old Road.

The Cambridge Jeffersonian prints the following interesting account of the old National pike, which passes through this county:

On December 1, 1832, Seth Adams, of Zanesville, superintendent of the National road, which was then completed to Zanesville, shows in his report the amount of travel for that year by the books of the toll gates to be men on horse back 35,750; mules and horses driven, 16,750; sheep driven, 21,410; hogs driven 32,845; cattle driven, 96,323; carriages with one horse, 11,907; carriages and wagons with two horses, 11,613; wagons with three horses, 2,357; with four horses 3,692; with five horses, 1,599; with six horses, 1,329.

The toll gates were at that time but one in each county, 20 miles apart, so that there would be but little intermediate travel counted in the report. This will give some idea to the reader of today of the amount of traffic on the road and the numbers of travelers, which would average more than two to every mile between the Ohio river and Zanesville. In this the stage coaches are not numbered as the greater part of them were mail coaches that passed over the road free.

It was not until 1833 that toll gates were established on an average of ten miles apart along the road. This great amount of travel increased yearly so that it was said that the road was lined with vehicles and horsemen and the number of pedestrians was proportionately as great. This great moving tide were the homeseekers of the west.

The United States government never established toll gates on the road in Ohio, and it was not until 1831 when the National road was transferred to Ohio that tolls were collected. The United States in the cession reserved free toll for the government service of every kind and also had the right to take back the road from the state at any time by paying to the state what it had expended in keeping up the road, over and above the amount that had been expended by the state. So that in this day of good road improvements, electric railroads and automobiles, the United States might yet step into control of the old National highway.

Steam carriages and automobiles are not altogether new things under the sun in Ohio. December 22, 1833, a memorial to the senate of Ohio was presented from William Niel, Esq., of Columbus, asking permission of the legislature to run a line of steam carriages on the National road in this state. The memorial was referred to a special committee of three. A bill was reported January 15th to the senate and referred back to the committee for amendment. January 21 the bill passed by a vote of 18 yeas and 17 nays. The bill was reported to the house January 24 and a motion for its indefinite postponement was defeated. February 13th the bill was postponed until the "First Monday of December next." We leave it there.

The National road was not completed at that time to Columbus. William Niel was taking time by the forelock. He was one of the proprietors of the Ohio Stage Company. In 1834 there were four daily stage lines on the road: The Ohio Stage company; the Citizens' line; the People's line; the Good Intent; and in every other day stage line from Cambridge to Cadiz and Steubenville over the Steubenville grade road.

John Asmus Dead.

Mr. John Asmus, a well known resident of Newark, died at the home of Mr. George Biedermann on South Fifth street, about 11 o'clock on Thursday night, after an illness of only three days with inflammation of the bowels, having been taken sick on Monday night. The deceased was well known in Newark. About ten years ago he went to Pittsburgh where he had resided up to last September, when he returned to Newark and engaged in the saloon business, leaving his wife and daughter, Miss Nettie, in Pittsburgh. His wife is now lying seriously ill at her home in that city. His daughter, Miss Nettie, who had been telegraphed for, arrived here several hours after his death. The remains will be taken to Pittsburgh this evening for burial. The bereaved mother and daughter have the sympathy of all their friends in their bereavement.

DR. KOEHLER—Dr. M. H. Koehler, of this city, will remove to Jackson town, where he will succeed Dr. Jackson, who will locate in Zanesville.

State of Ohio vs. Chas. Turner, heretofore convicted of horse stealing; motion for new trial overruled. Fitzgibbon; Smythe & Smythe.

Lucinda Martin vs. Chas. Dean et al judgment of settlement. James, Flory & Flory; Smythe & Smythe.

Mr. Jones Vindicated.

Granville, O., March 7.—The termination of the suit of Thomas A. Jones against the Crawford Natural Gas and Fuel company is a vindication of Mr. Jones against the charges made by the Inspector of that company last spring, who gave out and circulated the statement that Mr. Jones had fraudulently used natural gas in his furnace, and on account of which a bill was presented by the company to him, which he was required to pay or they would shut off the gas from his premises. Mr. Jones brought suit to restrain the company from enforcing its claims in that way, and so the issue was made up. When the case was reached for trial the Gas company abandoned its claim and paid the costs, and Mr. Jones has judgment accordingly. Mr. Jones is to be congratulated on the result, as it removes every imputation of wrong against him in the matter.

RAILROAD NEWS.

A Steel Rail Famine Next.

A steel rail famine now threatens the railroads. Hundreds of thousands of tons of rails are needed at once, says the Pittsburgh Post, and the manufacturers hesitate to accept hurried orders. The Pennsylvania system has 1000 miles of new steel to lay on curves and on new tracks. The Vanderbilt system must have 2000 miles of new steel on lines between New York and Chicago and New York and St. Louis, and a dozen different systems are sending in orders now. The Baltimore and Ohio will not leave a single worn rail on curves, and the Pan Handle and Ft. Wayne have already made appropriations for a vast amount of new steel for renewals and about 4000 tons for new tracks. The steel rail manufacturers are swamped with orders now and more orders are pouring in constantly so that they are in a quandary regarding the future. The entire product of every mill in the United States will be needed for present orders; not to talk about new orders from many small roads which are coming in every day.

The new extensions west of the Mississippi river and the Missouri river are important. The San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake extension will require 75,000 tons of 75 pound rails. The Rock Island extension will require 60,000 tons, and the extension of double tracks on the Burlington and Union Pacific systems will demand 80,000 tons of rails weighing 85 pounds to the yard.

The Pennsylvania main line will need 100,000 tons of 99 pound rails. The Pittsburgh and Lake Erie for second, third and fourth track extensions will need 25,000 tons of heavy rails before the end of the present year. At present 350,000 tons of steel rails are needed to fill orders for immediate delivery. This has no reference to the 50,000 new steel cars which will be ordered before next April. It has been estimated that more than 10,000,000 tons of steel will be required to fill railroad orders for the coming year.

KEEP STRONG

Vinol is a Wonderful Tonic and Strengthenor.

The Reason Why We Endorse It So Emphatically.

We have had considerable experience in being able to watch the effects produced by various tonics. We can emphatically state that we know of nothing that will act as a general restorer, strength restorer and flesh creator, better than Vinol.

When we feel as sure as we do of the good that can be accomplished by this scientific remedy, it would seem strange that we should not recommend it as highly as we are continually doing. It is painful for us to see any of our friends or fellow townpeople, weak and debilitated and unable to enjoy life and in a condition where they are apt to succumb to some serious illness, when we feel as sure as we do, that if they would but take Vinol, they would find it to be a strength builder and a health maintainer.

We know that Vinol contains in a highly concentrated form, those important medicinal elements that have always made cod liver oil famous. We know also that Vinol does not contain grease and is delicious to take and we know best of all of hundreds of people who have been cured and made strong by it. Here is one of many.

Mrs. G. W. HENRY, 205 First Ave., Joliet, Ill., says:

"I take the greatest pleasure in recommending such a fine tonic and strengthening medicine as Vinol. I felt run down and was always tired. I had no appetite and did not seem to digest the food I ate properly. I have been taking Vinol for about two weeks and feel strong and well. I now thoroughly enjoy my meals and my domestic and social duties, which used to fatigue me, are now a source of pleasure. I am now a sincere friend of Vinol."

When we talk of Vinol, we know whereof we speak and will refund your money if you are not satisfied after giving it a fair trial, that what we tell you about it is absolutely true.

CANVASSER

Conducted Himself in an Improper Manner—Forced His Attention on a North End Woman.

Thursday an unknown man canvassing in the North End, representing himself as a picture agent, conducted himself in a very improper and ungentlemanly manner at the home of a certain lady where he called. She told him promptly that she didn't want to buy any pictures, but he forced himself into the house and followed her as she retreated, clear into the kitchen, using some very insulting language. The lady became frightened and gave an alarm which frightened the fellow away. He will be given a warm reception if he shows himself in that vicinity again very soon.

The ground, comprising several properties, was bought and paid for in cash last fall at a total cost of nearly $200,000. Contracts for construction have been let and the building is to be ready for occupancy by September, 1903. The plan contemplates 36 storerooms, 200 office rooms, 101 single rooms, 75 separate rooms and 200 market stalls.

THE TROUBLE DISCOVERED.

Leading Physicians Make a Strong Statement About Health.

Statistics show that the great army of dyspeptics increases from year to year.

Physicians who have been making an investigation of the cause of the disease attribute it to the fact that as a nation we eat largely of uncooked cereal foods. Investigations show that in a majority of homes, when cereal foods are a part of the diet they are only cooked for a few moments, and when served in this manner, are unfit for the stomach, forming, as they do, a starchy, sticky mass, which is not only difficult for the stomach to handle, but retards the digestion of other foods.

To render oatmeal and other cereals easy of assimilation and in proper condition for the stomach the starch must be converted into dextrin. This requires five hours' constant cooking.

The average housewife has not the time nor patience to prepare her oatmeal in this manner, and to meet the demand for a palatable and nutritious cereal food that contains all the elements of nutrition in a digestible form, Malt-Nut was manufactured.

This new delicacy is a combination of heat digested, twice cooked, malted cereals and pre-digested nut oils. By a new process the grains are taken through the first and hardest stages of digestion and the addition of the oil of nuts in an emulsified form, gives it a delicious, nutty flavor and four times the food elements of beef.

Malt-Nut is ready-to-use. A few spoonfuls with the addition of milk, or cream, makes a dainty meal. Leading grocers sell it. Made by the American Pure Food Co. Limited, Battle Creek, Mich.

CHAMP CLARK STORIES

Humorous Tales Gathered Here and There.

Reminiscences of the Ready Wit of Senator Green—How He Caught the Know Nothings—The Trouble With General Clark's Head—Governor Stone's First Victory at Law. Wouldn't Buck the General Government—A Juror Excused.

[Copyright, 1902, by Champ Clark.]
Horace Greeley, editor, philosopher, statesman and orator, once said, "Fame is a vapor." Of all sorts of fame political fame is the most evanescent. James G. Blaine says in his book, the greatest book ever written in America, in speaking of James Stephen Green of Missouri:

"No man among his contemporaries (in the senate) had made so profound an impression in so short a time. He was a very strong debater. He had peers but no master in the senate. Mr. Green on the one side and Mr. Fessenden on the other were the senators whom Douglas most disliked to meet and who were the best fitted in readiness, in accuracy, in logic, to meet him. Douglas rarely had a debate with either in which he did not lose his temper, and to lose one's temper in debate is generally to lose one's cause. Green had done more than any other man in Missouri to break down the power of Thomas H. Benton as a leader of the Democracy. His arraignment of Benton before the people of Missouri in 1849, when he was but thirty-two years of age, was one of the most aggressive and successful warfares in our political annals. His premature death was a loss to the country."

Caught the Know Nothings.

Notwithstanding Green's splendid genius and the brilliant promise of his youth, he is almost completely forgotten. It is doubtful if the country ever contained a greater stumper than he. The Rev. W. W. McMurray once accompanied me on a speechmaking trip to Shelbyville, Mo. Returning, he said: "The immense audience you had tonight reminded me of the crowds that used to turn out to hear Jim Green. In the Know Nothing days Green began a speech in the courthouse in Shelbyville before an audience made up of about half Democrats and half Know Nothings, a fact of which he was fully aware. On rising to speak he stretched his tall form to its extreme height and, looking solemn as an owl, said, 'I take it for granted that there are no Know Nothings here; whereupon every Know Nothing in the house yelled out: 'You're mistaken! We're all here!' Green replied, 'I am glad to hear it, for like my Lord and Master, I came not to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance.'"

Made a Failure.

Brother McMurray continued as follows:

"Once Green and Judge J. J. Lindley, an exceedingly brilliant lawyer, were trying a small case on opposite sides in the court of a justice of the peace. When Green came to make his argument he didn't state the facts of the case to suit Lindley, whereupon the latter said, 'Mr. Green, you should not set up a man of straw.' Thereupon Green shook his long finger at Lindley and said, 'God Almighty tried that in making you thirty-five years ago and made a flat failure of it.'"

Nothing in It.

Brother McMurray gave this sample of his readiness in using wit: "Once when the political situation was at fever heat in Missouri Green was making a speech at Fayette. Old General John B. Clark, then in his prime, was standing up in the audience. He towered like another King Saul, head and shoulders above all the people, and was therefore a very conspicuous object. He had too much sense and knew Green too well to interrupt him, but finally Green laid down some proposition, and the general shook his head in sign of dissent. Green pointed to him and said: 'General, you needn't shake your head. There's nothing in it.'"

Governor Stone's First Lawsuit.

Lawyers are great hands to indulge in reminiscences. Nearly all of them like to tell about their first lawsuit, for usually even the greatest of them began in a very small way. Governor William J. Stone gives the following account of his first lawsuit:

"As I recall it now, my first lawsuit involved the magnificent sum of 50 cents. The plaintiff had done certain work for the defendant, for which he rendered a bill of $2.50. The defendant, considering the charge exorbitant, refused to pay. He was willing to pay $1.50, and during the negotiations, by way of compromise, he proposed to pay the plaintiff $2. When this proposition was carried to the plaintiff, he rejected it with scorn and instituted a suit before a justice of the peace. At first neither party had an attorney. Each attended to his own case. They had fifty witnesses subpoenaed between them. The greater number of the witnesses were used to prove the value of the services. The plaintiff won on the jury trial, and the defendant appealed. After the trial I was employed by the plaintiff. By this time the accumulated costs made the case of much greater importance to the parties. The original difference of 50 cents was lost sight of in view of the large bill of costs accrued, now amounting to $70 or $80. On the trial we made it appear that no actual tender of any sum had been made to the plaintiff, and so I felt pre-ty sure of the costs, no matter what amount the jury gave us. However, the jury returned a verdict for the full amount claimed. The costs in the case exceeded $100. The controversy of course was absurd to the point of folly, but it gave me a case, $15 in money and a world of glory. Thereafter, like Alexander, I was looking for other worlds to conquer."

A Question of Jurisdiction.

For many years the Judge of the Marion-Ralls-Monroe-Shelby circuit was Hon. Thomas H. Bacon of Hannibal. As applied to him, with only a change of tense, there would be almost literal truth in Fitz-Greene Halleck's famous couplet:

None know him but to love him;
None name him but to praise.

He is "learned in the law," polite as Chesterfield, brave as Richard Plantagenet and guileless as a child. Love of justice is his ruling passion. When barely of age, he set out from home, burning with martial fire, to enlist in the Confederate army. He joined "Pap" Price just in time to fight in the battle of Wilson's Creek, where General Lyon was killed and young Bacon dangerously wounded.

The judge has a quaint manner of speech, sometimes dashed with humor. Once in a case pending before him an application was filed for removal to the United States court. After the lawyers were through arguing and spouting Judge Bacon thus delivered his opinion: "There are some doubts in my mind touching the question of jurisdiction, but several years ago I ran up against the United States government and got my hide full of lead for so doing. I do not care to repeat the performance; consequently I resolve all doubts in favor of the general government and grant the removal of the cause."

A Withering Rebuke.

On one occasion Hon. Ben T. Hardin of Kansas City and myself were on opposite sides of a bitterly fought highway robbery case up at Shelbyville. With all due respect to Mr. Hardin, I am willing to give it as my opinion that he can be the most aggravating mortal I ever saw in a courthouse. He is capable, plucky, aggressive, provoking. Great patience has never been ranked among my virtues even by my most sanguine friends. The aforesaid case was long drawn out and wearisome beyond my power of description. Everybody was in a wretched humor. It degenerated into a fierce slugging match among the lawyers. Hardin and I fell about of each other repeatedly. To make matters worse, we were trying the case in a church, within whose walls we all ought to have been on our good behavior, but we were not by a long shot. At last Judge Bacon, who was a great stickler for good order, grew weary with our ceaseless and unseemly wrangling. After an unusually violent altercation between Hardin and myself the judge straightened back in his chair and in the blindest manner said, "I do not undertake to prescribe rules of etiquette for attorneys from outside of this circuit, but I feel constrained to say that the attorneys of my circuit do not behave as Messrs. Hardin and Clark are now doing." It was a withering rebuke; more so perhaps by reason of the kind tone in which it was delivered. Hardin and I did not have another row that day.

The Juror Was Excused.

In the Shelby case already mentioned there appeared among the proposed jurors a son of the Confederate hero General Martin E. Green, deceased. Mr. Julius H. Green. On inquiry Mr. Green announced that he had already formed an opinion as to the alleged guilt or innocence of the prisoner. Further interrogation disclosed that said opinion was derived from an inspection of the defendant's countenance. Defendant's counsel responded with a volley of objections. The court asked the juror if he had read Lavater. The juror answered that he had. The fact is that Lavater's work has little or no value in physiognomical research, but a certain prestige attends the name of the author. The court ruled that if eleven more jurors of this type could be secured the evidence would be dispensed with, but in default of such a panel Mr. Green would be excused.

Brought Him to Terms.

In a divorce case between parties of advanced years it appeared that the couple had started in poverty. In conjunction with his farm the husband, a frugal German, had conducted a pottery which was an elevated site. In her earlier married life the wife, by up and down hill trips, had furnished the water supply. Side by side they fought the wolf away and amassed for the husband a handsome competence. Still the wife's only means of travel depended on casual trips of the farm wagon. Once when the team was hitched the old lady prepared for transportation of herself and some housekeeping products, the sale of which was her sole reliance for pin money. When the old man saw that his good wife intended passage, he ordered the team unhitched and the errand abandoned. The court ruled that this was the equivalent of the most refined piece of marital cruelty ever heard of. Although the old potter strenuously denied making any family jars, his wife was on allied grounds decreed a divorce and half the estate. The result was a compromise and reconciliation.

Judge Bacon is one of the most agreeable and sparkling conversationalists I ever met and indulges freely in bonhomie and humor when among his intimates. I think he was the author of the bestest pun I ever heard. A year or so ago at the Louisiana court of common pleas somebody told Judge Bacon that Judge Roy had eaten two dozen Randle apples at one sitting. "Well," said Bacon, "that is what I would call an apple-dandy judge."

A splendid Missourian is Hon. Thomas H. Bacon, well worth cultivating.

Ailing Women in Springtime Need the Strengthening of a Nourishing Virtue of

Paine's Celery Compound

A Case Where the Great Medicine Bestows Vigor and Health After Months of Weakness and Suffering.

Observing and intelligent women who have used Paine's Celery Compound have noted well the fact that as a spring medicine it quickly regulates the bowels, clears the whites of the eyes of that common jaundiced look and gives a bloom of health to the face that it never possessed before. Another important proof of the invigorating power of Paine's Celery Compound, is its effect on the pulse, which becomes full, firm and regular. Weak exhausted, nervous, irritable and worried women find that Paine's Celery Compound counteracts the exhausting strain of work and worry by its strong inducement of the delicate tissues to take more nourishment; it induces the nerves and brain to feed themselves more liberally and it enriches the blood and regulates the flow.

Mrs. Nellie Morse Taylor, Solon, O., sends the following testimonial letter for the benefit of weak and run down women:—

"Some years ago I had a severe attack of the grippe which left my head and spine in a very bad shape. Sometimes I thought I should lose my mind I was so nervous. I could not sleep more than two hours a night. After a year with the doctor, I had run down so I weighed only one hundred and sixteen pounds. I then began on Paine's Celery Compound, and that great medicine cured me and built me up to one hundred and fifty pounds. I would not be alive today had it not been for the Compound. It cures all nerve troubles."

ONLY A SUGGESTION

But It Has Proven of Interest and Value to Thousands.

Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to, become fleshy and plump it can only result from the food we eat and digest, and that food should be albuminous or flesh forming food, like eggs, beefsteak and cereals; in other words the kind of food that make flesh are the foods which form the greater part of our daily bills of fare.

But the trouble is that while we eat enough and generally too much, the stomach, from abuse and overwork does not properly digest and assimilate it; which is the reason so many people remain thin and underweight; the digestive organs do not completely digest the flesh forming beefsteak and eggs and similar wholesome food.

There are thousands of such who are really confirmed dyspeptics, although they may have no particular pain or inconvenience from their stomachs.

If such persons would lay their prejudices aside and make a regular practice of taking, after each meal, one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the food would be quickly and thoroughly digested, because these tablets contain the natural peptones and disease which every weak stomach lacks, and by supplying this want the stomach is soon enabled to regain its natural tone and vigor.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest every form of flesh-forming food, meat, eggs, bread and potatoes, and this is the reason they so quickly build up, strengthen and invigorate thin, dyspeptic men, women and children.

Invalids and children, even the most delicate, use them with marked benefit as they contain no strong, irritating drugs, no cathartics nor any harmful ingredient.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the most successful and most widely known of any remedy for stomach troubles because it is the most reasonable and scientific of modern medicines.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by every druggist in the United States and Canada as well as in Great Britain, at 50 cents for complete treatment.

Nothing further is required to cure any stomach trouble or to make thin, nervous, dyspeptic people strong, plump and well. Feb. 26-28 Mar. 5-7

An Ordinance.

Fixing the time of collecting payments for lighting Railroad Crossings. Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Newark, Ohio.

Section 1. That the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, and the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company be required to pay to said City the actual cost of maintaining such electric lights as are necessary to light the tracks provided for in an ordinance, entitled "An Ordinance to provide for lighting railways of the Baltimore and Ohio, and the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway Companies, within the corporate limits of the City of Newark, Ohio," passed November 4, 1901. That said sum shall be due and collected each six months after said lights shall have been furnished as provided for in said Ordinance.

Section 2. The Solicitor is hereby instructed and directed to take such legal steps as are necessary to collect the same.

Section 3. This Ordinance shall take effect from and after its passage and legal publication.

Passed March 3, 1902.

H. W. ROSSEL, President.

F. T. MAURATH, City Clerk.

The Liverpool town hall clock was stopped during the recent storm in England owing to its works having frozen.

Our heavy raps are about all closed out. We have a few left to close at 10c, and better ones 12c, but a nice line of "bats" all shapes at one-fourth off regular price at Roe Emerson's Closing Out Sale of the South Side Store.

STRIKE

OF STREET CAR MEN MAY END TONIGHT.

MORE TROUBLE OCCURRED AT NORFOLK LAST NIGHT.

WIRES OVER TOWN WERE CUT.

And a Woman Was Arrested for Throwing Snuff in Officer's Eyes. Militia Still on Duty.

Norfolk, Va., March 7.—Notwithstanding the prospect of the selection today of an arbitrating board for a settlement of the street car strike here, which has been on for a week, the conditions in Norfolk last night were worse than since the strike began.

Wires were cut in all parts of the city by expert electricians sympathizing with the strikers, and though the Norfolk Railway and Light company was managing to keep its plant in operation the city was thrown in darkness by the cutting of the wires, and the few cars that were being operated with the usual heavy military guard were tied up again.

Repeated efforts were made before the current was cut off to wreck the cars and some were badly damaged.

The military had its hands full during the night and the soldiers are still on duty. The prospects today however, are that an arbitrating board will be selected this afternoon and the strike may be declared off late tonight. The military of which there are twelve companies, will then be discharged.

A woman giving the name of Laura O'Neil was arrested this morning for throwing snuff in the eyes of an officer. Wires have been repaired and a number of cars are now running.

SAVED BOY

FROM DROWNING IN CANAL ON SIXTH STREET.

Four Year Old Son of Mrs. Mitchell of Seventh Street Fell Through the Ice.

About 2 o'clock this afternoon, Mr. William Davis, who lives at Fairview, a few miles west of Newark on the Hebron road, rescued a four year old boy named Mitchell from drowning in the canal.

Mr. Davis was driving down Sixth street for a load of coal when he was called by a number of little boys to help a child out of the water. He immediately saw a boy struggling in the water but by holding to the ice the little fellow was keeping his head out of the water. Mr. Davis calling to the boy to hold on ran to the scene of the accident and soon rescued the child though he got wet in doing so.

The Mitchell boy had been playing on the ice which was thin and let him down into the water.

The child told Mr. Davis that his name was Mitchell and that he lived on Seventh street.

It is thought that he is a son of Mrs. Zoia Mitchell who lives on Seventh street, just off of Granville street.

Census Bureau.

Washington, March 7.—The President today signed a bill providing for a permanent census bureau. In a letter to the Secretary Interior Hitchcock he explains the provisions of the bill in regards to the appointment of employees. The bureau is to be carried on as at present until July first when the bill goes into effect. On that day, says the President, the director of the census will appoint such members of the present force under him as will constitute the permanent census force, and others will be added under the civil service rules.

CUBAN SITUATION.

Washington, March 7.—A majority of the Republican members of the House are in opposition to the President and the leaders of the Ways and Means committee on the proposition to make a reciprocal reduction of the tariff between the United States and Cuba. The President stands pat on his declaration that there must be something done for Cuba and the Republicans of the House say they will not obey.

Washington, March 7.—Chairman Payne of the house ways and means committee, made a statement regarding the Cuban situation in which he reviews the three propositions pending. He also says the majority of Republicans think something ought to be done for Cuba. In the statement he says:

"Many misleading statements as to the attitude of the President, the Cabinet and the House Republicans are appearing in the newspapers. I cannot speak of conferences with the President. But I have every assurance that the cabinet is not divided on this question nor has a majority of the House Republicans committed themselves either to the Morris, the Tawny or the do-nothing policy."

Mr. Payne also says that to grant a 20 per cent. reduction will prevent the annexation of Cuba for many years, and annexation will mean free trade. He closes his statement by saying: "To refuse to do anything would put the House in a position of hostility to the President, would cause uncertainty and a feeling of apprehension to the producers of sugar in the states, and would be utterly demoralizing."

Repaired Damage.

During the storm a few days ago the roof of the barn of Mrs. E. S. Armstrong west of Newark was blown off. On Tuesday Messrs. Frank Gray, Samuel Kinney, Harvey Lawyer, Arch McMillen and Arthur Taylor, with their wives, went to the farm place, and while the ladies had a pleasant time indoors preparing a good dinner, the men went to work on the barn and soon had the damage repaired. The kindness of these friends and neighbors is much appreciated.

School House Robbed.

Toboso, O., March 7.—Thieves entered the Red Hand school house some time during Thursday night and carried off a large number of books, tablets, pencils and slates. A clue has been obtained, pointing to two persons, strangers in this community. An effort will be made to recover the books and bring the thieves to justice.

GIRLS

OF FIFTEEN RAN OFF FROM MANSFIELD

AND WERE FOUND IN NEWARK RESORT.

WERE TAKEN HOME ON FRIDAY.

Newark Young Men and a Stranger Are Implicated in the Case.— A Sad Story.

Two young girls, Goldie Bechtel and Nora Ryland, each 15 years of age, were arrested Thursday by Officers Zergiebel and Rinehart on information furnished by the police department of Mansfield from which city they had run away, and their detention here develops a cruel story of villainy on the part of a man and waywardness on the part of the girls.

Both the girls are good looking, the Ryland girl being a tall, finely developed brunette, who looks older than she is, while Goldie Bechtel is very girlish in appearance and a blonde.

Upon the receipt of the message from Mansfield, Marshal Vogelmeier detailed Officers Rinehart and Zergiebel on the case who made a systematic and thorough search of the wine rooms and questionable resorts. The girls were finally located at May Beand's house on South Fifth street, where the Ryland girl was arrested.

Both girls arrived in Newark Tuesday and went to the Commercial Hotel on Fifth street, where they secured rooms and board. On Wednesday they became acquainted with two young men of this city, and after visiting several wine rooms, the fellows took them to the Bernard woman's place. It appears that the Bechtel girl was taken deathly sick and about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning left the place and went to her room at the hotel. The Ryland girl remained at Bernard's all night.

Both were taken to the city prison and locked up and the Mansfield police notified.

A reporter saw them at the prison this morning and had a talk with them. They said that the reason they left home was "to get work and see some of the world." They left Mansfield Tuesday, "a friend" having furnished them $7. Here the stories differ. Miss Ryland said they did not start for Newark, but for Mt. Vernon, while her companion said they left home intending to come to Newark.

While at home they became acquainted with an Indian medicine man or "doctor" who goes from town to town. He left Mansfield several weeks ago going to Mt. Vernon, where he remained until the first part of the week. Miss Ryland says that "Dr." Eagle wrote her three times telling her to meet him in Mt. Vernon and to "bring Goldie along. This she did and came to Newark, but the doctor left them.

Chief Jacob Weil of Mansfield, came to Newark and took the girls back with him on B. & O. No. 17 at 8:20 this morning.

Chief Weil says that the parents of the girls are nearly distracted over their daughters' actions. Mrs. Bechtel is a highly respected widow, living on Fourth street in Mansfield. She took in sewing which she continued until her eyes gave out, the proceeds going to give Goldie an education.

The Ryland girl lives with her mother on Sixth street. Her parents have parted, but she says her mother and she had no trouble, but she wanted to make her own living. Chief Weil says her father is a carpenter, and both parents are respectable people.

The girls say they came to Newark, and meeting the two Newark boys, went around with them. One of them suggested that they go visit "his aunt" and they did so. Goldie says that when they found out the character of the woman, she left, but the Ryland girl remained all night.

The young fellows who took the girls to the Bernard house, are well known in town. One of them is a married man, while the other has been in considerable trouble lately.

Both girls were willing and anxious to accompany Chief Weil back to Mansfield, and it is to be hoped this experience will be a lesson to them, causing them to settle down and be good.

and all kindred ailments. The results of this new crushed fruit laxative are speedy and effective, as opposed to the drastic nauseating old style remedies, which by their violent action, leaves the system weak and shattered.

Mull's Grape Tonic breaks up the cold and cures by attacking the causes of the disease, not the symptoms. Its wonderful tonic powers build up, strengthen and fortifies the system against a recurrence of colds.

TO CURE A COLD—Take a spoonful or two of Mull's Grape Tonic in half a cup of warm water four or five times a day. Some relief will be noticed in a few hours. After the cold is broken continue the tonic according to directions on the bottle until the patient has fully recovered.

Mull's Grape Tonic can be had of our nearest druggist or sent by mail for $1.00 in advance to the MULLS' GRAPE TONIC CO., New York, N. Y.

In case of sore throat, croup, whooping cough, pneumonia, etc., where a cough is present, it is necessary to rub well the throat with Mull's Tonic and then take it. It is a genuine cure for all such ailments and apply in connection with Mull's Grape Tonic.

C. T. BRICKER, SOLE AGENT.

come useful women.

This morning about 9:30 o'clock Chief Weil of Mansfield, and Officers Rinehart and Zergiebel of this city, arrested "Pretty Eagle," the half-breed Indian doctor.

The "doctor" was found at his apartments, 125 Elm street, where he is located for the sale of his medicines, and was taken to the city prison and locked up. A white woman accompanies him, who he claims, is his wife. This he is corroborated by the woman, but "there is a mistake somewhere."

She claims that they were married in Kansas City in 1898 while he said they were married in the Indian Territory, by a Justice of the Peace at Wichita Mountain, in September, 1901. "Pretty Eagle" is a half-breed, of powerful physique, and speaks fluent English. He wears his hair long, and has a ring in each ear.

His alleged wife is a very pretty white woman of considerable intelligence.

He said this morning that he sold his own medicines, and in the summer carried a show with him. He claims that the two girls wrote several times to him wanting to go on the road with him when he started out with his show. He denies writing to them, or having anything to do with them that would implicate him in any criminal prosecution. The girls got off the train at Mt. Vernon but when they found him on the same train they got on again and paid their fare to Newark. "Eagle" says that they were not together, but came up town separately. He first met them on the square, after getting to Newark, and they asked him to get them a room, which he did at the Commercial House.

This afternoon Chief Weil disengaged "Pretty Eagle" from custody alleging that he had no warrant to arrest him.

The doctor afterward called at the Advocate office and strongly reiterated his innocence of the charge of enticing the girls away.

Both war ship Concord, supposed to have been ordered during a recent sale in the Pacific was on the way to Putnam Island with mail for the survivors of the mutiny of the Bounty.

The remains of G. L. Cunningham, who was killed by a train in Newark Wednesday, passed through Newark Thursday night en route to West Virginia for burial.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

WATCH IT! Watch the Urine, should it contain a "brick-dust" like deposit; should it be too highly colored: should urination be too frequent, painful in passage or irregular in any way, 'tis a serious matter---demands attention. When the Kidneys fail in their work---when their delicate fibrous filters become clogged they warn you through the back. The back has many aches and pains from kidney ills. Help the kidneys when they're sick---help them before congestion or inflammation makes you miserable; before urinary disorders appear.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS relieve the kidneys---cure the aching back and every kidney ill down to dangerous Diabetes, Dropsy, Bright's disease. Positive proof of the efficacy of Doan's Kidney Pills in the testimony of friends and neighbors.

NEWARK PROOF

Fink & Lisey.

Mr. F. Lisey of Lisey & Fink, says: "I was distressed and annoyed by a pain just across my back over the location of the kidneys. It was rendered more acute every time I was called on to stoop or lift anything. Treatment at different times failed to afford me any relief and at last I stopped using medicine and went and got a package of Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's. Their use proved effectual and my back has remained sound ever since I took the treatment. I have as a natural result no hesitancy in allowing my name to be used in recommending them."

Poplar Avenue.

Mrs. David R. Jones, No. 23 Poplar avenue, says. "Every morning I had such a sharp pain in my kidneys I was hardly able to turn my body to get out of bed. When I kept moving around I did not feel it so much, but if I sat still or laid awhile, it became very acute. My husband brought home one day a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and I started taking them. Imagine my surprise and pleasure when I found they had rid me of the pain in my back and tored my appetite. It's a good thing to be free from backache."

NEWARK PROOF

Baltimore Street.

Mr. T. Henderson, No. 489 Baltimore street, says: "I can only say that after giving Doan's Kidney Pills a trial they showed themselves to be all that was claimed for them. I had a good deal of pain over my kidneys. If I contracted a cold, no matter how slight it always affected them first, and as a result my back grew worse, being frequently so painful that it was more than I could do sometimes to straighten up. The urine was of a bad odor and color---evidence that the kidneys were not altogether right. After I obtained Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's drug store, all this trouble was corrected. The kidneys passed away the impurities and my back was strong and free from pain."

North Fifth Street.

Mrs. N. W. Jarvis, No. 105 North Fifth street, says: "When I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's drug store I had been sick for some time. In fact I could not do anything, I felt so poorly. I had a severe pain in my back and was terribly weak. I had been taking treatment, first one thing and then another, but I felt no better. My attention was drawn to a reading notice in our paper about Doan's Kidney Pills. Bad backs like mine had been cured, could mine be also? I decided to try them. They did for me what other medicines failed to do. They gently aided the kidneys and the pain in the back over these organs left me."

GET DOAN'S. Don't accept a substitute. Nothing else as good. No other kidney remedy endorsed by people you know.

All Druggists sell Doan's Kidney Pills. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., Sole Proprietors.

CROP CONDITIONS

PRESENT INDICATIONS FOR THE WHEAT NOT GOOD.

Quotations From State Board's Bulletin Issued at Columbus---The Live Stock Conditions.

The condition of the growing wheat crop in Ohio has dropped ten per cent since January 1, according to the crop bulletin of the state board of agriculture for March 1, issued Thursday. That is the only grain referred to in the report, the rest of the report being devoted to live stock.

The report says: "On the setting of winter, the wheat plant was far below the usual degree of strength and vitality due principally to extremely late seeding. The wheat in its tender condition was not able to stand a very hard winter. The severe cold weather in December resulted in some damage, but during this period there was slight snow protection which aided in warding off greater damage. The estimated condition of wheat as taken January 1 showed 72 per cent of an average condition. Wheat roots have been upheaved. There has been an average of about five weeks of favorable snow protection, but notwithstanding wheat has declined rather than progressed. The estimated average from correspondents' returns shows a condition of only 62 per cent, or 10 per cent less than on January 1."

Some correspondents note that wheat roots are apparently good. Present conditions make it almost impossible to foretell, with any degree of certainty, what results will be and we must wait for further developments.

Live Stock.

Shortage of feed and severe cold weather have not been conducive to the condition of live stock. Stock generally healthy, but thin in flesh. In many localities farmers were disappointed by the great scarcity of hay. During January and most of February, sheep were low and many were dry. Sheep have not received the general careful attention that is needed when wool and mutton are bringing higher prices.

The distribution of the pure breeds of sheep indicate a fixed interest in all the recognized prominent breeds and speaks well for the general live stock interests of the state, as horses, cattle and swine will show a corresponding tendency for increase of the pure breeds and their grades.

Do not miss the sale now going on at Emerson's South Side Store and lay in a supply of underwear for next winter. A fair undershirt for 10c, a union suit for children 15c, or two for 25c.

A Fine Picture.

S. Allen, the artist, who has been employed at Meyer Bros. & Co., for some months past, has about completed at his studio on West Church street, a fine portrait of Mr. Otto Meyer, the violinist.

The picture is 26 by 37 inches, done in oil, and the tone and technique are artistically perfect. The violinist is standing, posed with his instrument. The likeness is absolutely true, and the entire suggestion is that of the rhythm of motion and music.

The picture will be exhibited at Meyer Bros. & Co. next week and will then go to a private salon in Columbus.

Mr. Allen, the artist, has had the very best of advantages in the different schools of his native country, Germany, and his artistic conception and technical capability are developed to a high degree.

Freak of Nature.

Mr. F. W. Kummer, a well known farmer who lives three miles north of town, has a great natural curiosity in the shape of a peculiarly shaped ear of corn. The one hard ear of corn grows in the center of a bunch of ears, and around it eight smaller ears of corn have grown, all standing upright and solidly attached to the central ear. The entire growth resembles very strikingly a small chandelier. The ears of corn are perfect and well developed, with the exception that the eight ears surrounding the large central ear are about the size of an ear of popcorn. The entire growth furnishes a strange freak of nature.

The Agriculture Department now requires a larger appropriation for its administration than any other department except treasury.

GRANVILLE

Harman-Freeman Marriage---H. M. Jackson's New Position---Other Items of Interest.

Granville O. March 7.---Mr. Judson Harmon, son of Mr. Thomas Harmon, and Miss Stella Freeman, a well known young lady of this place, were married on Thursday night. The ceremony was performed by Squire Sayre at his home, in the presence of several of the friends of the parties. Mr. Harmon has, for some time past, been employed at Clemens' Station, a short distance west of this place. They have the best wishes of all their friends.

The streets running around the Methodist church have been named Lindon Place, and those around the Presbyterian church, Locust Place. Miss Alice Freeman of Muncie, Ind., who has been visiting relatives in this vicinity for some time, returned to her home Thursday.

One of the twin children born to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, died on Thursday and the other one is not expected to live.

Several Granville men are employed on the new gas line at Brushy Fork, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fields and little children, of Fairmount, Va., after a week's visit with relatives in this vicinity, returned home on Wednesday.

Samuel Sinkfield is lying very ill at the home of his uncle on Maple avenue.

Mr. H. M. Jackson the well known and popular grocer, has secured a very lucrative position in the wholesale grocery house of Eldridge & Higgins, Columbus, and will assume his new duties on Monday. The store here will be managed by Mr. Ben Jackson and Mr. Everett Moore.

Mr. W. F. Chamberlain of Dayton, was in the village on Thursday the guest of the family of F. L. Ferguson.

COLONEL COIT

IS DULY ELECTED COMMANDER OF FOURTH REGIMENT.

Has, It Is Understood, Practically Consented to Accept Leadership of His Old Regiment.

The Fourth regiment, Ohio National Guard, elected its Colonel Thursday afternoon and evening. The members of Company G met at the armory on Thursday evening and 37 votes were cast for Colonel, all of which were received by Col. A. B. Coit. The vote of the regiment will not be legally counted until Saturday afternoon, but the result of the election is not in doubt, as Colonel A. B. Coit's name was the only one voted upon. Under these circumstances, the vote in Newark and Columbus was exceedingly light.

It requires a vote of 51 per cent. of the regiment to elect a colonel, and as the number voting far exceeded that number, the legality of the election is assured.

While Colonel Coit's election is certain the members of the regiment are still in the dark as to whether he will accept the honor. The law gives him 10 days after the election in which to accept, and it is not unlikely that he will spend a large part of the time in investigating the condition of affairs with the regiment. It has been said that Colonel Coit is waiting to see what encouragement the Columbus Board of Trade will give him, provided he accepts, but officers of the regiment said Thursday night that he had practically assured them of his acceptance as soon as he is officially elected.

STARKEY

Still Legally Auditor---Suicide Story Is Not Believed by the Officials Friends.

Zanesville, O., March 7.---It is the general opinion that Auditor Starkey, against whom the jury returned a verdict for $12,250 for breach of promise, is gone for keeps. The suicide theory is not accepted by any one, though there are a few who cling to the belief that the Auditor may have had mental trouble. In his talk with Frank Logan on the evening of his departure he did not indicate undue excitement. Friends estimate his wealth at $50,000, and it is believed that he has simply gathered together all his money and left for parts unknown. However, this belief has not been established with sufficient thoroughness to cause official action by the County Commissioners. He is still the County Auditor, and his deputies are doing the work.

Last summer, it is said, Auditor Starkey evinced signs of breaking down, and left the city for a week. It was stated then that the Auditor's affliction resulted from worrying about the pending breach of promise suit and the heat. His attorneys, Johnson & Brown, have filed an appeal, and are going along with the case just as if he was here.

Starkey's attorneys last evening filed a motion for a new trial. Deputy Auditor Mercer states that Mr. Starkey will be back within a week. Starkey was seen in Newark Tuesday night by former Senator Miller, and stated to him that he was going to Columbus. However, Mr. Starkey was seen to board an east-bound train at Newark.

Mrs. Speer will hold her dancing school Monday evening, March 10th, from eight until twelve o'clock. 6-3t

DEATH

OF MRS. CHARLOTTE B. BARROWS THURSDAY NIGHT.

At the Home of Son-in-Law, Dr. Hatch---A Sketch of Mrs. Barrows' Life.

Mrs. Charlotte B. Barrows, died at the home of her son-in-law, Dr. C. A. Hatch, 64 North Fifth street, at 9:45 o'clock Thursday evening, after a long illness dating back to January, 1901, at which time she had the grip. She never fully recovered and paresis developed last July, which finally caused her death.

Mrs. Barrows' maiden name was Charlotte Blackmer Williams and she was born in Danby, Vermont, March 2, 1818. She passed her 84th birthday last Sunday.

In the early '30s she moved with her parents to Newark, where her father engaged in business, being a prosperous man of affairs and enjoying considerable local prominence.

When a young woman the deceased was a teacher in Worthington Seminary, the largest Methodist institution of learning in Ohio at that time, which is now incorporated in the Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware.

In 1849 at Newark, the subject of this sketch was married to Dr. Albert Barrows, a rising young physician of Factory Point, Vt. The couple went back to Vermont on their wedding trip and lived at Factory Point for several years. The stage of the journey from Newark to Cleveland was completed on a canal packet.

Mrs. Barrows' mother, Mrs. W. Williams, went back to Vermont to visit her daughter several years after her marriage, and being in ill health she was accompanied to Newark by Dr. and Mrs. Barrows, who decided to make this city their home, and here Dr. Barrows continued the practice of medicine until his death in 1884.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrows were the parents of four children. Mary and Mary Rhoda, who died in childhood, the latter as a result of injuries received by being thrown from a horse, ex-Mayor Clark D. Barrows, who died in April, 1899, and Mrs. Anna Hatch, wife of Dr. C. A. Hatch, who is now living

A sister, Mrs. Sarah F. Brown, of this city, and a cousin, Miss Hannah Adams, who lives at Dr. Hatch's also survive.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrows celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1890.

While still a girl in Vermont, the deceased united with the Methodist Episcopal church, and about 60 years ago became a member of the Newark church, which was not then completed. She continued to attend the church services until unavoidably prevented by the weaknesses incident to advancing years. Mrs. Barrows was a woman of noble Christian character, who was actuated in every relation of wife, mother and friend, by those principles of life laid down by the lowly Nazarene, whose humble disciple she had been for nearly three-quarters of a century.

The funeral will take place from the home of Dr. Hatch, 64 North Fifth street, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Frank Granstaff, of Marion, conducting the services. The remains will be laid to rest beside her husband in Cedar Hill cemetery.

TO DAMAGES FROM SPAIN FOR DISASTER AT HAVANA

When the Maine was Blown Up on February 15, 1898—Spanish Treaty Commission Reports.

Washington, March 7.—The Spanish treaty claims commission has handed down a decision against the claimants for deaths and injuries received by officers and seamen in the wreck of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor.

The commission holds that "individual claims of citizens of one nation may arise against the government of another nation for redress of injuries to persons or property which such citizens may have sustained from such government or any of its agents. But such individual claims do not arise in favor of the officers and seamen of a ship of war, who receive in the line of duty, injuries to their persons for which a foreign government is responsible."

The claim against the foreign government is wholly national and injuries to such officers and seamen are merged in the national injury and they can look only to their own government for such remuneration as it may choose to give to them.

A seaman injured by the explosion which destroyed the battleship Maine in the harbor of Havana, Cuba, on February 15, 1898, had no individual claim against Spain, even if that government was responsible to the United States for the explosion, and therefore such a seaman is not entitled to an award in his favor from the Spanish treaty claims commission organized by the act of Congress of March 2, 1901, to adjudicate all individual claims of citizens of the United States against Spain which the United States released to Spain and agreed to pay by the treaty of peace of December 10, 1898.

The claims so far filed with the commission which will be affected by the decision amount to about $2,500,000, which probably would be increased to $5,000,000 had the decision been favorable to the claimants.

WHAT DOES THE DIVER SEE?

AMUSEMENTS.

The Chicago Stock Company will open at the Auditorium Monday evening for a week of unusually strong plays for a repertoire company. Among the plays are "Prince Otto" generally regarded as Robert Lewis Stevenson's masterpiece, "Nell Gwyn" a romance covering English history during the period from 1666 to 1678 "The Bondman," by Hall Caine, the famous "Carmen," "Under Two Flags" by Ouida and by special arrangements, Lincoln J. Carter's great scenic production, "The Defaulter." No week stand company ever before offered such a bill of plays. Prices 10, 20 and 30 cents, Monday ladies free night.

MORE THAN GRATIFYING.

An event of exceptional interest is the future engagement at the Auditorium of "The Girl From Chili," a delicious comedy farce in three acts. It is said that the hit the piece made has led to the cancellation of many one night stands in which it was booked so as to enable the management to accept contracts offered in the larger cities. The engagement in this city will be kept as manager Rosebraugh has an iron-clad contract to that effect.

DUSKY DAMSEL

Played Role of Pick Pocket Successfully at Toledo.—French Was Robbed of $400.

Toledo, O., Mar. 7.—Henry W. French, a Waterbury, Conn. capitalist, was robbed of $400 on the street last night by a dusky Amazon, who caught French by the arm and deftly extricated the money from the watch pocket of his trousers. Mr. French started from the St. Charles Hotel for a walk before retiring. A few blocks from the hotel and within a block of the police station he was approached by a colored woman who told him a tale of woe and who caught hold of his arm. When he extricated himself the woman disappeared and French found that he had been touched. The police have arrested a woman of the same general description, but did not get French's money.

PROSPEROUS MAINE TRAPPERS.

(Bangor Commercial)

The present winter will be the best which Maine trappers have seen for a number of years. The prices on nearly all furs are from 25 to 50 per cent higher than was the case last winter and most of the furs are correspondingly scarce. As a result of these conditions the trappers are receiving much more money for their skins. Fur coats and all sorts of fur garments cost much more, however, and a coat which would have been purchased last year for $150, now sells for over $200.

"The price of furs is to a large extent determined by the London dealers," said a Bangor dealer, "and the present increase is caused by the scarcity which has existed this season. Of course the prices of some kinds of furs have not risen, but the vast majority have gone up from 25 to 50 per cent."

"This means more money for the men who spend the winter in woods trapping and securing skins, but it also means more money must be spent by the people who wish to wear the garments when completed. The dealers are forced to pay more for the raw material and for this reason they are forced to ask more for the finished product."

"Whether or not the price will drop back again next season it is now impossible to say. Much depends upon the quantity of furs which are placed upon the market from now on. If large quantities of Russian and Siberian skins come in, why it is likely that next season will see something like the old scale of prices restored. Here in Maine the trappers are having the most favorable conditions which have existed for years. They are not slow in taking advantage of the situation."

It costs no more to employ an expert than to risk your life with an inexperienced physician.

THE FRANCE URETHRAL TREATMENT is a medicated Bougie for the cure of Stricture and all forms of Diseases of the Bladder, Urethra, and Prostate Gland. The Bougies are inserted into the urethra upon retiring at night; they slip into position without the slightest effort, requiring a short time to dissolve. They act like a mild electric current, irrigating and purifying the urethra and snap to the cure of the disease. The curative effect is felt from the first application. Our special treatment completely dissolves the stricture and permanently removes obstructions from the urinary passage. Treatment by Correspondence. Each person applying for Medical Treatment should bring or send from two to four ounces of urine, which will receive a careful chemical and microscopic examination. We have cured hundreds of cases we have never seen. Write for book of 100 pages and list of 500 questions. Correspondence, Consultation and Examination free and strictly confidential. No names published without written consent. Treatment sent by mail or express to any part of the United States. Call on or The France Medical Institute Co., 38-40 West Gay Street, Columbus, Ohio. LINER FINE POINT MACHINIST

Went Down After Collision—Struck, Decided by Chicago Court Which Gives Amidsip by a British Steamer. Property to the Heirs of the Woman.

A Dense Fog. Liverpool, March 7.—Passengers of the lost American line steamship Woesland, were landed here at 3 o'clock this morning. They presented extraordinary appearances. Most of them were clad in night clothes, over which they had thrown blankets or old garments, some of which were loaned them by members of the crew of the Harmonides, the steamer that crashed into and sank Woesland. The collision occurred in the night.

London, March 7.—The American liner Woesland, Captain Atfield, from Liverpool March 7, for Philadelphia, and the British steamship Harmonides, Captain Pentin, from Para, Feb. 13, for Liverpool, met in collision off Holyhead, Wales. The Woesland sank. Her passengers and crew were saved. The Harmonides rescued the passengers and crew of the Woesland and is bringing them to Liverpool. Tugs have been sent from Liverpool to meet the Harmonides. The Woesland carried 32 cabin and 82 steerage passengers.

The Woesland is owned by the International Navigation company but flies the Belgian flag. She plied regularly in the American line service between Philadelphia and Liverpool, touching at Queenstown each way. Formerly she was known as the Russia. She is a 4-masted, bark-rigged iron vessel of 3676 tons net.

The loss of the Woesland was due to the dense fog which enveloped the Irish channel during the entire day, seriously delaying all vessels.

Liverpool, March 7.—Statements made by the Woesland passengers to-day show that Dangerfield, the Kansasan, did not die from a fall in the hold. He jumped into a life boat while it was still in the davits, causing the boat to tip and spilling the occupants in the water. Elsie Emmott was one of those in this boat. She was drowned.

Dangerfield's leap caused his death. His skull was crushed in the fall. He was about 61 years old, and hailed from Scranton, Kansas. He had a wife and four children aboard the Woesland.

The 114 passengers of the Woesland lost their entire belongings. Many had all their savings aboard, including a Captain Apple of the Woesland. He had in his cabin specie that represented his savings of 25 years.

Chicago, March 7.—John and Margaret Askwith were found dead from accidental asphyxiation in their home April 29, 1898, and this morning the probate court decided that the woman had survived her husband long enough to inherit his portion of their estate of about $2,700. As there were no children left by the couple and no will, the decision of the court redounds to the financial benefit of the heirs at law of the woman.

Has Succeeded in Establishing a New Point of Law—Loss of Two Fingers.

Chicago, March 7.—A machinist who was deprived of work for six months because he thought his fingers were worth more than $60 a piece, has succeeded in establishing a new point of law.

The man who valued his digits at something substantial is Gustav Horn. The court's decision in substance, establishes the point that an insurance company is liable for damages when it resorts to extreme measures in an attempt to effect a compromise with a claimant. In the case in question it was shown that an agent of the insurance company tried to browbeat Horn into accepting a compromise in the suit which he had instituted against his employers and, failing in this had caused Horn to be discharged by the employers.

Horn lost two fingers of his right hand in a machine while working in the Chicago bicycle plant of Arnold, Schwinn and Company. The company had a contract with the London Guarantee and Accident Company by which the insurance concern was to pay all claims for personal injuries. Horn won his suit against his former employers, getting a verdict for $3,500 for the loss of his fingers, and then sued the insurance company for damages, securing judgment for $800. This verdict was appealed and was decided in favor of Horn. The opinion of the reviewing court holds that the company exceeded its right under the limitations of public policy.

So far as is known the case is the first of its kind to be passed on by a higher court in this country. Several years ago a similar suit was decided against an insurance company in the British House of Lords.

The Vatican now has an installation of electric lights which cost $45,000.

France has 16,000 physicians; their incomes averages but $600 a year.

SAFE BLOWERS

Corralled in a Barn Near Van Wert.
Had Dynamite and Burglars' Outfit.

Van Wert, O., March 7.—Late last evening ex-Sheriff Wilson of Paulding, Marshal Hott and ex-Marshall Baxter of Van Wert, landed a quartet of deperate safe blowers in jail here.

Zimmerman & Co.'s store, in Grover Hill, was broken into and a shotgun, revolvers and knives stolen. Wilson, who is now a detective on the Cincinnati Northern, started in on their track, returning to this city. In the afternoon Jasper Collins, a farmer, three miles north of town, saw some parties hiding in a barn. He telephoned to this city and the officers mentioned at once went to Collins' farm. The three quietly entered the barn, Wilson with his Winchester and the other two officers armed with revolvers, overpowered the quartet and brought them here. They have registered as Frank Wilkerson and John Graham, Chicago, Frank Harmin and John Gilmore, St. Louis.

Officers believe they are a desperate set, as they had with them a complete burglar and dynamite outfit and had their revolvers ready, but were taken by surprise. Photographs were taken and sent to the cities they claim to hail from.

EXCITING ELOPMENT

Couple Pursued by Irate Father of the Bride, Flee Across Mountains.

Portsmouth, O., March 7.—James M.
Farley, a wealthy timberman, of Spanishburg, W. Va., aged 29, and Mary C.
Crotton, aged 17, were married at the Hotel Washington here yesterday afternoon after an exciting elopement.

Miss Crotton's father lately became a Mormon and was making preparations to move to Utah. Against his will his daughter refused to accompany him and her lover planned the elopement.
She met her lover early Wednesday morning and together they started across the mountains for a lonely drive to an out of the way railroad station. Their escape was discovered and they were pursued by Crotton and his son. The sounds of horses' hoofs and the angry shouts of the men warned Farley and his sweetheart of the pursuit and they drove like mad for the station. Just as the horses of their pursuers were coming into the little mountain town the bride and groom were boarded a Norfolk and Western train and rolled rapidly away.

STATEMENT

OF CONDITION OF ST. FRANCIS
DE SALES CHURCH.

Rev. B. M. O'Boylan, rector of St.
Francis de Sales church, Newark, has given out his annual statement of church finances. The total receipts during the year, including a loan of $1,800 were $7,882.28. Total expenditures, $8,226.70. Account overdrawn, $444.42. There is practically no debt on the church save the amount due on the diocesan debt, which amounts to $2,700, with interest. There is a surplus of $800 drawing interest, which will be used as the nucleus of a fund for decorating the interior of the church and other improvements. From January, 1901, to January, 1902, there were 69 baptisms, three of which were adults. Of these, 40 were the children of Catholic marriages and 26 of mixed marriages during the year and only 6 Catholic marriages. The rate of mixed marriages for some years has been as two to one to the Catholic. There were 22 deaths of which 9 were infants. The school is free. There are 8 teachers in as many rooms, graded from the lowest primary to the high school inclusive. The average attendance is 436—220 boys and 216 girls.
The school has been pronounced by a committee of the Board of Health second to none in its sanitary appointments. It is one of the largest in the diocese. The total population of the parish is given as 1,458 souls. There are four sodalities—the Altar and Rosary, the Tabernacle, the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin, and the League of the Sacred Heart. The men's societies are the A. O. H., the Catholic Order of Foresters and the Knights of St. Francis.

Weak persons should drink Consumers beer. It gives strength.

Different and Better.

Different from all others because they contain no opium or any of its derivatives. Better than all others because they effect a cure through the Nerves and Heart. Such are Clinic Headache Wafers when taken for the cure of a headache. The safest and most reliable remedy known. Take no other. At Hall's drug store, 10 cents.

IN TWO YEARS

Ohio W. C. T. U. Will Begin a Crusade for "Social Purity."—Meeting in Columbus.

Columbus, O., March 7.—The Mid-Year Executive Committee meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Ohio is in session here.
About 100 delegates are present from all parts of the state.

Mrs. Annie W. Clark, president of the State Federation, presided. Among the other prominent members seated on the platform were: Mrs. A. B.
Case, president of the City Federation; Mrs. Monroe, of Xenia, former president of the State Federation;
Mrs. Sarah Perkins, of Cleveland, vice president at large; Mrs. Florence Waite, of Cleveland, treasurer; Miss Frances Ensign, of Madison, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Purdum, of Chillicothe, recording secretary, and Mrs. Hollingshead of Cleveland, former editor of The Messenger.

The discussion of "legislative work" was begun by Mrs. Dora Leslie Webb.
The question of the Women's Christian Temperance Union co-operating with the State Legislature in a movement to raise the age of consent was opened for discussion. This broached the social purity question and a motion was carried that the W. C. T. U.
start a crusade against the houses of prostitution. The matter will be brought before the Legislature two years hence.

Judge and Detective at War.

Springfield, O., March 7.—Last week
Judge Miller in police court gave Detective John T. Norris a severe reprimand for interrupting the proceedings of the court. Norris was lectured from the court room. Yesterday Norris brought suit in common pleas court to restrain Miller from practicing law, under a statute which provides that a judge of a court of record may not practice while on the bench. The petition was filed by Norris immediately after Judge Miller had finished trying a divorce case. The petition asks the court to appoint a committee to bring charges in the manner provided by law.

English society has been exercised over whether it was proper to honor the toast to the Queen standing. Like that to the knig. The King has settled the doubt by announcing that both should be honored while standing.

TOOK FRIGHT

AT PASSING STREET CAR AND BUGGY OVERTURNED.

Mrs. James Black Living Near Union Station, Had Collar Bone Broken.
Companion Not Hurt.

James Black, living near Union Station, accompanied by her little son, Stephen, and her mother, Mrs. Catharine Hand, met with an accident about 5:30 o'clock on Thursday evening, which came very near having a serious termination. The ladies had been in the city and were on their way home, when their horse frightened at an electric car and jumped on the track immediately in front of the approaching car. The wheels caught in the tracks and the buggy was overturned, throwing the ladies and the little child out onto the ground with considerable force. The buggy was badly broken.

A number of people who had witnessed the accident rushed to the assistance of the unfortunate ones. Mrs.
Hand escaped injury, as did the child, but Mrs. Black's collar bone was found to be broken. She was assisted to the residence of Dr. Barker, who attended to her injury, and later hitched up his own rig and took them home.
Mrs. Hand and the little boy being furnished a rig by Mr. Green, who resides in the West End.

PENSIONS

For Superannuated Employees of the Metropolitan Street Railway, and Thousands Happy Today.

New York, March 7.—Fifteen thousand and employees of the Metropolitan street railroad are happy today over the announcement by President Vreeland that a pension system for the superannuated employees had been established. The system which will go into effect on or about July 1 next provides that all employees between 65 and 75 who have been with the company 25 years or more shall be pensioned.

The up-to-date collector collects watches. This is even more fashionable than to collect fans, which some time ago superseded stamps, coins and bookplates. A collection of watches may include clocks of small size.
